U.S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8th, 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any state or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are received in United States notes or National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the 1st days of March and September in each year.

Subscribers will receive either Registered or Coupon Bonds, as they may prefer. Registered Bonds are recorded on the books of the U. S. Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1st, by paying the accured interest in coin—(or in United State notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or received them drawing interest form the date of subscription and deposit.—As these Bonds are

EXEMPT FROM MUNICIPAL OR STATE TAXATION, their value is increased form one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax leivies in various parts of the country.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay

OVER EIGHT PER CENT INTEREST

n currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payments while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sum from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

It may be useful to state in this connection that the whole debt of the United States on which interest is payable in gold, on the 1st day of March, 1864, was $768,965,-000. The interest on this debt for the coming fiscal year will be $45,937,126, while the customs revenue in gold for the current fiscal year, ending June 30th 1864, has been so far at the rate of over 100,000,000 per annum.

It will be seen that even the present gold revenues of the Government are largely in excess of the wants of the Treasury for the payment of gold interest, while the recent increase of the tariff will doubtless raise the annual receipts from customs on the same amount of importations, to $150,000,000 per annum.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as Loan agents were not issued from the United State Treasury untill March 26, but in the first three weeks of April the subscriptions averaged more than TEN NILLIONS A WEEK.

Subscriptions will be received by the

First National Bank of Pittsburgh, Third National Bank of Pittsburgh,

AND BY ALL NATIONAL BANKS,

which are depositaries of Public money, and all

RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country, (acting as agent of the National Depositary Banks,) will furnish further information on application and

THE COPPERHEAD.

BY JOHN HOLLAND.

There is a snake that haunts the grass,
Despised by all men, white and red
Trod 'neath the hoofs of ox and ass—
The glistening, venomous copperhead!
Throughout three seasons of the year,
The rattlesnake himself hath fled;
But when the extra months appear,
His sutler is the copperhead—
The twisting, wriggling copperhead;
The glistening, venomous copperhead!
The man of sense can fix the tense
In which to kill the copperhead.

'Tis said that every creeping thing
Has got some useful task ahead;
But yet the bards have failed to sing
One virtue in the copperhead.
The ancient snake in Eden's bowers
From flowery paths our parents led.
Experience in this age of ours
Comes down upon the copperhead—
The slippery, slimy copperhead—
The hissing, spitting copperhead,
The sweat of man thro' ages shed,
Cries, "Clubs upon the Copperhead!"

We love to scan the lordly beast
That's called the king by naturalists,
But yet, we shun the foul retreat
Where'er the slippery reptile twists.
The winnowing birds that haunt the grove
Make echo ring where'er we tread;
But, ah! they cease their songs of love,
Where'er they spy the copperhead—
The wallowing, sponging copperhead;
The birds despise the copperhead;
From Union hands it eats is bread,
And bites for thanks the copperhead.

But glory be to Israel's God!
The Union bird its wings has spread,
Whose beak and claws shall rid the sod
Of every crawling copperhead.
The rattlesnake and copperhead
Shall ne'er coil up fair Freedom's bed;
The Union pole pokes every hole
That can contain a copperhead.
Alas, alas, the copperhead!
The Union stone has smashed its head!
We'll stuff its skin for men to grin
At what was once a copperhead!

THE RETURNED VETERAN.

A Story of one of John Logan's Men.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune writing from Dongola, Union county, Illinois, gives the following account of one of Gen. John A. Logan's men:

Gen. John, when a boy, was in the Mexican war. When he returned he studied law, and at the age of 25 he was elected to Congress by an almost unanimous vote. His district included the whole of southern Illinois.—His home is in Carbondale, Jackson county. He was the people's idol—He knew everybody, and everybody knew him. He can make a good speech; he is a good lawyer, and is one of the best dancers in the country.—O, how he can dance! He looked like a girl, and yet, with dark complexion and the blackest hair, every one took him to be part Indian. One reason why the people liked him so well was because he was a Democrat and hated Abolitionists. He used to give it to them hard. Once when he spoke here on Popular Sovereignty, I asked him a question or two, such as Lincoln asked Douglas at Freeport, which cornered him; but he called me a Yankee Abolition preacher, which made the people laugh and say it was good enough for me. However, they all went against Douglas, and that was bad for Logan. Whenever he undertakes a thing he does his best. At this time he commands in Georgia.

When the war broke out he figured the matter to see how it was going, and then went for the government with all his might, soul and strength. Thousands deserted him and called him a traitor; other thousands stuck to him. Some of his relations fairly shine with copper. He has a younger brother, a good deal like him. John raised one of the first regiments and became its Colonel. It is the 31st Illinois Volunteers. Then he resigned his seat in Congress, and our beautiful friend J. C. Allen took his place.

In those early days of the war, John was at Springfield, when a Mr Grant came to tell his troubles. This Grant was a tanner, and, having an idea he could a little, had raised some men and brought them to Springfield, where they were in camp. But the men were not sworn in, and finding it a harder business than they expected, principally on account of poor beds, they were going to back out and go home. This was Grant's trouble.—He couldn't see how he was to get along. It looked as though he would have to go back to his tanyard. Perhaps Logan could help him.

"Can't you talk to them?" said John.

"No," says Grant.

"I can; call them together."

They had all heard of him, and he spoke to them two hours. He told them all about our government, and how the war commenced. The sweat rolled. He jerked off his coat and handkerchief. You never saw a man work harder in your life. He related stories that made the boys laugh, and then he described a mother's life in such beautiful language that one would think no other life had so many charms. When he got through the men were impatient to be sworn in; for fear they might lose the chance. This was the way Mr. Grant got a start, and he has done nobly well since, for he now commands all the armies of the Great Republic.

A short time since John Logan's old regiment—the 31st—came home on a furlough, to see the boys and recruit. One of the companies was raised on Rose Prairie, where lives Esquire Clifford. He is an old settler, has been a Justice for many years, for he can read. He has a large farm, well managed; he is rich, and his only son, Andy, is an officer in the 31st regiment.

The old man sat on the porch smoking his home-made tobacco, waiting for the wagon. Andy married a few months before he went into the army, and his wife also sat on the porch, while her baby, about two years old, ran from her to its grandfather. Susan's father keeps store in the village of Rose Prairie; he is Postmaster, and one of the head men. She can read and write. Being brought up quite a lady, she never goes into the fields for labor except to pick cotton and to bind after the cradles, and she holds up her head as she might, for she is real handsome, and if any woman ever loved her husband it is she.

* * * * *

"I don't know how Andy would like that kind of talk," said she, "for he writes in his letter to me altogether different."

"Don't be troubled, gal," said 'Squire Clifford; "he writes so just to please the officers, for they open all the letters."

"I hope they don't open any of mine, though there's nothing bad in 'em."

"You jest wait and see how I'll talk to him. I'll bring him around sure."

The 'Squire was a Peace Democrat. To tell the truth, he belonged to the Knights of the Golden Circle, a lodge of which was organized by the lawyers at the county seat, and being an influential man, he and a few others had made Rose Prairie a hard place for Union men. It astonishes one to see how plain men, honest in their dealing, and good neighbors, but illy signing. When slavery made the people ignorant, a foundation was laid for every species of intolerance—even of infamy and crime.

All at once the wagon came thro' the yard with the horses trotting, which they had seldom done before, and it was filled with soldiers who were the Rose Prairie boys, and Andy among them. In a moment he had jumped over the bars and was near the porch when Susan gave a spring, threw her arms around his neck, and would have thrown him over if he had not braced himself; and there she hung, lifted from the ground.

"Now I want to see my boy," said Andy, and he gently held him up and for the first time gazed upon him—gazed upon him with eyes as clear, and as full of satisfaction as they were on the blessed 4th of July, when with his comrades he stood upon the ramparts of Vicksburg.

His mother and his sisters also came around him and there was a great time. They all kept looking at him; he was older and tanned. There is scarcely a person, old or young, in the whole North, who does not know the exact color of the Vicksburg tan. It is said the rebels were worse tanned, which is likely since Gen. Grant is a tanner. Andy's clothes were so clean they seemed new, and the blue cloth was very fine. The women thought his beard was so funny, for it was only a little bunch around his mouth. They could not keep their eyes off the bright little buttons on his blue vest, and his shining patent leather sword-belt. His hair was cut so as to make him look almost as smart as Gen. Logan. His father was proud he knew his boy was handsome and smart, but he had returned handsomer and smarter than he had expected. After the first few words, Susan said little, for she began to get supper; but one could see by the glimmer of her eyes, under their lashes that she had pleasant thoughts

Then they had a good supper. It should have been good, for they had been preparing victuals for several days. Everything on the table and around the house looked as though they had a wedding.

As soon as supper was over the old man commenced. He spoke of the wickedness of the war of high taxes, of the overthrow of the Constitution and the ruin of the country, and concluded by saying we ought to let the South go. Susan and the women tried to get him to talk about something else, while Andy interrupted and tried to explain, but he would listen to nothing, and he talked till he had nothing more to say. He made out a terrible case. Then Andy said:

"I see how this business is, dad.—Some of them lawyers up to the county seat have been learning you these things. And now, let me tell you, though they sound mighty big, that's scarcely a word o' truth in 'em from one end to the other."

"What's this! what's this!" said the Squire. "Do you mean to call your father a liar?"

Andy's bunch of beard began to work in a curious way, and he waited a little before he spoke.

"Who talks about liars but yourself? Shan't I tell you what the army wo'd say of you if you talked like that among them? I'll tell you. They'd say you was a —— traitor; and if you didn't happen to have a first best friend by you, they'd string you up. And I'll tell you, too, we think a heap more of an out and out rebel than we do of the traitors at home, who, when we strike the rebels a lick, help them to strike us back."

"You get out of my house. If you are my own son you shall not insult me in it. I've done with you—you shan't have none of my property—not a bit. Out of my house, I'll have nothing to do with you!"

"That suits me if it does you. Susan pick up what things you want now, and leave the rest for another time. We'll go to Bob Reynolds's, he's a good Union man; your dad's a copper, I know. You'll hear a different story one of these days, dad, mind I tell you."

"You may go to the devil for all I kere."

Andy buckled on his sword, and stood waiting for Susan. She was running around taking care of her things, her sisters-in law were helping her, while Mrs Clifford tried to soothe her husband. He would listen to nothing; his son had turned out to be a Yankee nigger, and it must be he wanted a nigger wench—he wouldn't speak to him, and he never wanted him to speak to him again

The house lately so joyful had become a house of mourning. All the women folks cried, and the baby, seeing something was wrong, cried louder than anybody else.

At last Susan was ready, and crying, she left the house with Andy, and they went away through the lane. In addition to this trouble Susan had another, which was on account of a piece she had just got in the loom and she had thrown the shuttle only a few times to see how it would look. Her father-in law had planted a patch of cotton for her and plowed it, and she had hoed, picked, and got it ginned and spent almost all winter in spinning and coloring it. Perhaps the old man would cut it out of the loom.

when Mrs. Clifton came into the porch and called, "Susan, you forgot your pocket handkerchief."

She went back, while Andy waited. She was gone a long time. Once she came out lingering, then went hastily back. At last she came running and looking pleased, and said his father wanted to speaking to him.—He turned rather reluctantly, and found his father filling his pipe by the fire place. "I want to ax you one question, Andy. Answer me now, fair. Sayin' nothin', about them Northern chaps, ain't it a shame for us as come from the South to be a fightin' and killin' our kind o' folks, and some on 'em our own kin?"

"I don't want no trouble nor dispute with you, dad, but I can answer that mighty sudden. It is a shame—but the shame is theirs not ours. It's they that's fighting us. We didn't strike the first lick. We didn't want no war but they did and they've tried to break up the Government. When they want peace and to have things as they had 'em before, excepting one little thing as has gone up, all they've got to do is to say it. But if they have a idee they kin make two governments of one that belongs to both of us, they've got a bigger job than they'd a idee of—in fact, the thing can't be did. I'll tell you what John Logan's men, and the rest of sojers say—we'll sweep 'em from the face of the airth afore we'll give up to 'em. And we can do it, too."

"That's dreadful hard talk, Andy, but there seems something in what you said about the fust lick. I hadn't thought o' that. I say, Andy, you ain't a goin' to desert your old father kase he got riled and spoke kinder sharp. Let's argufy this business—I've got the handsomest clover lot you ever seed, and the primest wheat you ever set eyes on. I want you to look at 'em. You shant go—what a talk it'll make. We'll argufy and keep cool.

So things quieted down. The women were happy as crickets, and Andy went over the story of the battles he had been in at Belmont, at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, where Logan was wounded at Shiloh, at the Big Black and Champion Hill, and finally at Vicksburg. But even then he was not done. There was no time that evening to tell all. In listening, the 'Squire was so proud of his son and of the success of the Northern Army, that he almost forgot he was a Democrat.

Next morning before they started, Susan had to show her husband her piece, and how she could weave. He left her weaving with all her might. A woman needs strong ankles to work the treadles, and in weaving she gets them.

They went out to look at the wheat and clover. The women saw them walking around, and at last to stop at a pair of bars. The old man held down his head a good deal as if listening, while Andy made gestures as if telling something. When they came to dinner of greens, and plenty of other things, the 'Squire said:

"Old woman, if what Andy's been tellin' me's true, there's some mistake about the Golden Circular business, and I've got to look into it; and if it's so, and it seems to be so, then them lawyers to town has been lyin' to me the cussedest."

When Andy's furlough had expired and he had started to return to the army, his father gave him his best wishes, and hoped his safe return.—He hoped, too, he might be victorious over the rebels in every battle. Susan held up the baby as high as she could that he might see it to the last. It would be hard to tell how much encouraged Andy felt.

Soon after this, it was talked about among the copperheads, that the furloughed soldiers had been converting the people of Rose Prairie to Unionism, and a couple of lawyers came down from the county seat to see about it.

Mr. Clifford being the most influential man, they called on him first. After going through a considerable long, smooth and slippery introduction they told him their business.—He confessed he had changed his mind, and he thought men of learning ought to know better than to be deceiving plain farmers who couldn't be expected to know all about politics. And how could they know, when they never had much schooling—and this was because the blasted old slaveholders where they came from didn't want no schools. One of them, who is figuring to go to the Legislature let out, in quite a speech filled with genuine Copper Democracy, telling about Lincoln's tyranny, the overthrow of the Constitution, high taxes, the ruin of the Constitution, high taxes, the ruin of the country, and concluded by saying we ought to let the South go.

"I'll tell you," said the old man, "what they'd say of you down in the army if you talked that way to 'em—they'd say you was a damned traitor; and if you had no fust-best friend with you they'd string you up; and if I was with 'em I wouldn't care much to help 'em. Them's my sentiments, fair and square."

"This is very strange. Squire Clifford, very strange indeed. Why, sir, you belong to the Knights of the Golden Circle, and you cannot have forgotten the solemn oath you have taken, nor the dreadful penalty

This made the Squire mad:

"Git out my house, you infernal scoundrel—you traitor to your God and your country. You lied to me to git me into it. Git out of my house! And if any of you Golden Circulars teech a hair of me or mine, I'll send for Andy and the rest of the boys, and, by the Jehoka, they won't leave a grease spot of your whole gang.—Git out of my house. I'll have nothin' to do with a traitor to my country and the old flag of the stars and stripes."

The lawyer went—they both went. When he was getting on his horse, he said:

"Good bye, Mr. Clifford. You've got to be a Yankee nigger, I see. It must be you want a nigger wench."

"Yes, I do; I want a thousand of 'em. I ain't afeard of niggers as much I was. I'm ashamed, though, I ever was a traitor like you is. Yes, I was a traitor, and I helped to fight agin Andy and Susan and her baby there. But thank God, in his marcy, I'm a traitor no longer."

It would have done you good had you seen how pleased the women were to hear the Squire give the lawyer his mind.

Information Wanted.—An anxious inquirer writes to know whether the Powder Magazine is published monthly, and is considered a safe magazine for quiet families. Also, whether dead letters are ever known to revive after they reach the Dead Letter Office, and if not, what is the use of sending them there? Also, whether navigators have to double their capes in all latitudes, or only in cold regions? Also, whether a schoolmaster can be said to have no scholars when he has two pupils in his eyes? If "distance lends enchantment to the view," and said "view" does not return it within a reasonable time, has "distance" a legal cause of action and is she entitled to recover?

☞ A prominent physician says:—"In my practice I have noticed that those children who become ill and die in the spring and summer, have fallen victims to the thoughtlessness of parents, who stuff them with roast and fresh meat at a season when their stomachs require a vegetable diet, easily digested and equally nutritious. I have saved the lives of more children by recommending farinaceous and vegetable food than I ever did by dosing them with disagreeable medicines."

☞ Boston gent gives lady his seat in a crowded car. In a few moments he says to lady, "Did you speak?" Startled lady says "No!" Boston gent says "Excuse me. Thought you said 'Thankee.'"

A Portrait.

The Hon. John Cessna of Pa., says the Tribune, long and widely known as a leading Democrat, in a recent speech described a kind of people whom he had observed in Southern Pennsylvania. We print the description in order that our readers may judge whether any such people inhabit their respective neighborhoods. We, certainly, have seen such. Hear Mr. Cessna:

"There are unfortunately those among us who cannot discuss the question a single moment without showing that they are at heart foes of the Government and enemies of their race. The people soon learn to find out, and know, these men. Human skill and ingenuity and all of a traitor's cunning cannot long succeed in concealing their real sentiments.—They hang back or sulk away from our public gatherings on our national holidays; disparage Union officers and soldiers and eulogize the Rebels. All Union victories are insignificant—of little account; Rebel victories are of incalculable value and importance. Good news is never credited—bad news is often originated, believed, and circulated long before verified. Taxes are obnoxious and oppressive; drafts are unconstitutional and odious; war is bloody and desolating, and the nation ought at once to stop it. For nearly four years, everything has been wrong; nothing excellent, nothing even praiseworthy or passable has ever been done by their own Government—only mistakes, wrongs, wicked acts of tyranny, and earnest appeals are made to the people to arise in their might and prevent the establishment of a military depotism. During all this time, they have never been known to utter a word of denunciation against the Rebellion, or see an improper act south of the rebel lines. These are the unmistable earmarks of the traitor. He may remonstrate; he may write down beneath the picture in large letters the word "Patriot;" he may in very noisy and earnest words, insist that he is a 'sound Democrat,' and that every man of his party who sustains the war is an 'Abolitionist.' Yet after all he is neither a patriot nor a good Democrat. You may turn him upside down and inside out, and cleanse and wash him with all the pure waters of America, and you can put nothing out him, but a [illegible] as Gen. Jackson would, have strung up for treason in his day, and looked for the authority afterward!"

☞ Sir Robert Walpole was fond of playing at billiards, at which his friend, Dr. Monsey, excelled him.—"How happens it," said Sir Robert, "that nobody beats me at billiards, or contradict me, but you?" "The solution is easy," answered Monsey. "I want neither place nor money from you; perhaps if I did, I should be as great a bungler at billiards as you are."

☞ Some wag tells a story of an old gentleman whose eight or ten clerks bored him continually with conundrums. Going home one evening, he was stopped in front of a closed store, by a countryman, who asked:

"Can you tell me, my friend, why this store is closed?"

"Go to blazes with your conundrums," cried he. "I've been bored to death with 'em these three weeks!"

☞ A Very Blind Man.—"Did you take the note, and did you see Mr. Thompson, Jack?" "Ees, sir." "And how was he?" "Why, he looked pretty well, but he's very blind." "Blind! what do you mean?" "Why, while I war in the room he axed me where my hat war, and I'm blessed if it were not on my head all the while."

☞ "People may say what they will about country air being so good for 'em," said Mrs. Partington, "and how they fat up on it; for my part, I think it is owing to the vittles. Air may do for camomiles and other reptiles that live on it. But I know that men must have something more substantialler."

☞ Just So.—A good deal of the consolation offered in the world is about as solacing as the assurance of the man to his wife when she fell into the river—"You'll find ground at the bottom, my dear."

☞ "Come, go to bed, Eddie, you see it is sundown, and the little chickens all go to roost at that time."—"Yes, Aunty, but the old hen goes with them."

☞ It was the saying of Sir Robert Peel, "I never knew a man to escape failure, in either body or mind, who worked seven days in the week."

☞ Rage and frenzy will pull down more in half an hour, than prudence, deliberation, and foresight can build up in a hundred years.

☞ Wouldst thou learn to die well? learn first to live well. Acknowledge thy benefits by the return of other benefits, but never revenge injuries.—[Confucius.

Vote on the Amendments.

In another column we give the vote in full on the first amendment in Beaver county. The majority in our county is unexpectedly large, arising from the fact that a great many copperheads did not vote as all. In some townships we learn that they came to vote, but were ashamed of the thing, and quietly left the polls without casting a vote. In our last we promised to give the Banner township; but we have several which are entitled to that honor. The following districts cast their votes unanimously for the soldiers: Big Beaver, Chippewa, Darlington, Economy tp., Fallston, Moon, New Brighton, New Sewickly, Patterson, Harmony, Raccoon. In Marion township the first amendment received but 13 votes, which is precisely the Republican strength. In North Sewickly township the opposition appear to have polled their entire strength; and in Freedom district they voted against it. In Rochester tp. the vote was a tie. In the other parts of the county it was pretty much like the handle of a jug—all on one side.

The following is the whole vote in this county:

FIRST AMENDMENT:
For.....2380 | Against.....865

SECOND AMENDMENT:
For.....2374 | Against.....808

THIRD AMENDMENT:
For.....2276 | Against.....811

The official vote of the State is not known, but all the amendments are carried by large majorities.

THE SITUATION

From Sherman we learn that our army before Atlanta is still holding, with tenacious grasp, the advantages which the present occupation of the defences of that stronghold have given to the Federal cause. Some idea of the value which the rebels place upon the occupation of Atlanta by Sherman, may be gathered from the fact that ever since we have arrived at that position which the Army is now holding, the enemy has made the most vigorous and frantic attempt to dislodge us. In these desperate assaults it is stated, upon the best authority, that the rebels have lost since the appointment of Hood, at least one third of their entire army. Such loss as this is most fearful, and we venture to say that anything like such desperate fighting, such daring and reckless expenditure of human life, has never before been witnessed. The annals of ancient and modern history afford no parallel to it. The battles of Borodino, Leipsig, and Dresden, fall in comparison with the assaults of the rebels upon our lines in front of Atlanta. At the present fearful rate of destruction, there will be left no rebel army in three weeks, and it does really seem as if an extermination of the rebel hosts had been preordained by Providence.

All the available fighting material of the Southern States is now either with Lee at Petersburg, Hood at Atlanta, or scouring the Shenandoah Valley. In fact these three bodies embrace almost the whole South. The forces of Lee are slowly melting away before Grant. The raiders of the Shenandoah Valley lose fearfully, and the army of Hood is rapidly being exhausted.

At the present rate, it will not be many months before the war closes, from the utter exhaustion of the rebellion. God grant it may come soon.

☞ THE FRANKLIN REPOSITORY Printing Office, in Chambersburg, was totally destroyed by the rebels—all the presses, books, type, subscription lists and accounts; nothing being saved. We are informed by Messrs. M'Clure & Stoner, that as soon as material and presses can be supplied, they will resume the publication of the Repository, and also The Old Flag—a campaign paper that has attained a very large circulation. The subscription lists of both papers are destroyed. Four copies were secreted in different parts of the town, but are burned. With their lists, the subscription accounts were also destroyed, and subscribers ner of their address, and the state of their subscription accounts, and all subscribers should promptly remit arrearages and advance subscriptions, to aid the publishers. In addition to their offices, both of them had their residences burned, with all their furniture and personal effects—the rebels not allowing them to save their clothing. Mr. Stoner was fired at in his own house for attempting to save the firm books, and the men who burned Mr. M'Clure's residence had special orders that nothing belonging to him should be saved.

OFFICERS EXCHANGED.—We notice from our late dispatches that the Union officers at Charleston, South Carolina, have all been exchanged and have come North. They were sent to Charleston about two months since and placed under our fire in order, as the rebels alleged, to preserve the City. Our Government promptly met the issue by exposing a like number of rebel officers. We are glad the result has been so favorable, and that our fears were not realized.—Col. A W Taylor, of this County, was one of the number, and his numerous friends will be pleased to hear of his exchange.

ACCIDENT.—George Eakin, of Bridgewater, carrier of the Chronicle, met with a serious accident on Thursday afternoon last. He was endeavoring to get on the cars while in motion, and was thrown against the wall of a cattle guard which he had not noticed. His leg was broken above the knee. Dr. M'Kinney was immediately sent for and set the leg. We understand he is doing well and will recover in due time. George was a faithful carrier and promising young man, energetic, moral and industrious.—He will be much missed by those who have for years been accustomed to his evening visits.

☞ CAPTAIN J. WEYAND, who was wounded at Monocacy, is at home and rapidly recovering from his injuries.—We are glad to see his familiar face on our streets again. He was formerly connected with this office as Editor, since which he edited the Union paper of Carroll county, Ohio. He now commands a company from that county, in the 126th Regt. O. V. He has seen much hard service, and has proved himself a brave and efficient officer. We understand he expects to return to his command soon. Our best wishes accompany him.

24th Congressional District.

An adjourned meeting of the Conferees for the 24th Congressional District, composed of Greene, Washington, Beaver, and Lawrence counties, was held at the Monongahela House, Pittsburg, on the 3d inst.

The following are the names of the delegates representing their respective counties:

Greene: Capt. J. M. Harper, Thomas Hill, Dr. W. D. Rodgers.

Washington: John A. Happer, —— Rupple, David Aiken.

Beaver: Wm. B. Clarke, J. S. Rutan, D. L. Imbrie.

Lawrence: E. Sankey, D. Craig, J. Haus.

The candidates were Hon. Thomas Cunningham, of Beaver county, and Hon. George V. Lawrence, of Washington county.

The convention continued in session until the evening of the 5th inst. The ballots up to that time stood six to six, when, on the final ballot, Craig and Haus, of Lawrence county, voted for Hon George V. Lawrence, thereby securing his nomination.

☞ CAPT JOHN S LITTELL, of this county, belonging the 76th Reg't P.V., who was severely wounded at Cold Harbor, in June last, has lately been promoted to the Lieut. Colonelcy of his regiment. Capt. L. has been for some time in command of the regiwhile leading the regiment in a charge on the enemy. We are glad to hear of his promotion, for he has fairly won it. He has proved himself a faithful, brave and competent officer, and is justly entitled to this recognition of his services. We wish him even greater honor

HUNTER SUPERSEDED.—It is asserted positively that Gen. Sheridan has been appointed to supersede General Hunter in the command of the troops on the Upper Potomac.

General Sheridan's new command embraces Northern and Western Va., Southern and Central Pennsylvania, and Western and Central Maryland He has his headquarters at Harper's Ferry, and is there already. Generals Augur, Wallace, Couch and Hunter retain their respective commands under him.

SEVENTEENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—The Union Congressional Conference of the 17th District, composed of the counties of Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon, and Mifflin, reassembled at Tyrone on Friday, and, after several ballots, nominated Abraham A. Barker, of Cambria county. The whole number of ballots cast at this and the former sessions of the conference, was three hundred and eighty nine.

BERKS HEARD FROM.—The vote of Berks county, allowing the soldiers to vote, amounted to 4,881; against them, 6,826. Majority against the soldiers, 1,945 This is nothing more than was expected. Berks is a very reliable copperhead county

NO MORE DRAFTING TILL SEPTEMBER.—An order has been issued directing that there shall be no more drafting under previous calls for troops.—All deficiencies now outstanding shall be carried over to the draft to take place in September.

Volunteer Credits on Quotas.

WASHINGTON, August 5.

The Solicitor of the War Department in a lengthy circular, decides that each man furnished under the present call for troops, whether for one or two or three years, shall count only one year in the quota now required. In making the quotas under a new call, the districts having furnished three years or two years men shall be credited with three times or twice the amount of service of those furnishing one year men, and the quotas arranged accordingly on new calls.

NEWS ITEMS.

A window falling on the neck of a daughter of Mrs. Maxwell, at Cape Elizabeth, Mass., last week, guillotined her, nearly severing the head from the shoulders, killing her instantly.

General Hunter is making a clean sweep from Frederick city of the rebel sympathizers by sending them to their place in Jeff Davis' domains.—Some dozen of the first families of Maryland have thus been packed off.

Gen. Rosecrans has called for six and twelve months regiments, to protect Missouri from guerillas, and the volunteers are coming in rapidly.—He is determined to clear the State of these thieving, murdering banditti.

A Union sharpshooter, being mortally wounded the other day, before Petersburg, just before his death expressed his willingness to die, declaring to the Surgeon that he had killed sixty rebels since the war began.

The Louisiana Convention adjourned on the 25th ult., after adopting a series of resolutions repudiating State Rights and the ordinance of Secession, and indorsing an amendment of the United States Constitution to prohibit slavery, everywhere within the national limits.

FUNNY.—To hear American citizens of the copperhead persuasion coaxing "American citizens of African descent" to serve as "substitutes." A little while a go, the copperheads were horrified at the idea of employing black soldiers; now, Sambo is offered large sums of money to take their places! The world moves, doesn't it?

A letter from a gallant Union officer now in the military prison, Macon, Georgia, says:—"Another eight months down here will strike my name off the rolls and many others also.—I am almost naked—no hat, coat or drawers; pants seatless, and boots on the last 'tour of duty.'"

Gen. McDowell has issued an order at San Francisco, requiring passengers on ocean steamers and ships to give up their arms to the captain of the vessel, and permit an examination of their luggage. The object is to prevent the probable danger of attempts to take possession of steamers on this coast, by pirates sailing as passengers.

A Washington telegram, based on official dispatches from Gen. Sherman, announces another attack on his lines on the 27th of July in which the enemy was defeated with loss five times greater than our own. Hood will probably think long before trying it again. Even he must begin to understand that Sherman is not to be dislodged, nor the fall of Atlanta averted.

Did our readers ever take a map and estimate the entire length of Gen. Grant's line? Do they know that it is nearly, if not quite, forty miles long from our intrenched position on the north bank of the James, near Deep Bottom, to the extreme left south of Petersburg? Is it necessary to add a line of that length and leave a force disengaged to operate on the flank?

The city of Baltimore having advanced the bounties due to the enlisted negro troops from the counties which have refused to pay these men. Col. Bowman advertises that they will be credited to the quota required from the city. The draft of the 5th of September, it is believed, will pass over Baltimore, which will supply her whole quota by volunteering between this and then.

It is said on the best authority that Secretary Fessenden has called upon Collector Barney, of the New York Custom House, to resign. The reasons alleged are said to have been derived from the evidence taken by, and the reports of the several Congressional investigating Committees. The Secretary believes the interests of New York merchants and of the country demand an official of more capacity than the present incumbent.

General McPherson, who was killed near Atlanta, was engaged to be married to a beautiful and accomplished young lady of Baltimore. The dispatch announcing his death by accident fell into her hand on its arrival. It was addressed to her mother, who, not being able to see well without her glasses, passed it to the daughter engaged to the deceased to read. Seeing it recorded his death, she instantly fainted. The scene was peculiarly distressing.

A late arrival from Charleston informs us that Fort Sumter is undergoing another destructive bombardment from our batteries.—The firing was slow, but accurate, and serious damage has resulted to some of the strongest portions of the fort. The fire on Charleston is also kept up. The work of erecting batteries and residences for rebel prisoners on Morris Island progresses, tho' the rebels annoy the workmen to the extent of their ability.

Gen. Dix is the oldest employed General now prominently before the public. He was born in New-Hampshire in 1798. Hunter was born in Washington in 1802. McClernand in Kentucky in 1812, Meade in Spain of American parents in 1816. Canby in Kentucky in 1817. Hooker in Massachusetts in 1819. Sherman in Ohio in 1820. Grant in Ohio in 1822.—Franklin in Pennsylvania in 1823.—Hancock in the same State in 1824.—Sigel in Germany in 1824, and Slocum in New York in 1827.

The "local" column of the Richmond Examiner furnishes the following facetious item: For the first time in our varied experience we saw on Tuesday a barrel of flour hauled up Governor street on a hearse! The public stared, but the driver drove on When we came to recollect that flour was five and six hundred dollars per barrel, and that the struggle for bread was one of life and death, we better appreciated the connection between the hearse and the barrel of flour

THE NEW INVASION.

HARRISBURG, August 5.

A dispatch from Somerset, received at 10 p. m., states that the Federal loss in the fight at New Creek yesterday was twenty-nine killed and fifty wounded; General Kelley defeated the rebels. [A dispatch from Greencastle, dated 8 p. m., states that a gentleman had just arrived there, who says he saw the rebels crossing at Williamsport between six and twelve o'clock this morning, 6,000 or 8,000 strong, infantry and cavalry.

HARRISBURG, August 5.

We had a communication from this point by telegraph with the State Line Station. At eight o'clock this evening the communication does not extend beyond Greencastle, the rebels having entered Middleburg, eleven miles north of Hagerstown. In what force they occupy Middleburg is not known. It is presumed that they have more than the five regiments which entered Hagerstown this morning.

The movements of the enemy are inexplicable. They seem determined to invest their operations with as much mystery as possible, both as to numbers, intentions and points of attack. At the same time that the five regiments were advancing towards Chambersburg, another column, it is reported, was moving up the Potomac in the direction of Cumberland, the strength of which column nons of our officials are able to learn.

A telegraphic report has just reached these headquarters, from Bedford, to the effect that passengers by the stage, who had reached that place, at Cumberland on Thursday, which resulted in loss to our side of 20 killed and 30 wounded.

HARRISBURG, August 5.

The occupation of Hagerstown is confirmed by official dispatches.—Three regiments of cavalry and two of infantry are strongly posted in and around the town. The fact that the rebel expedition is accompanied by infantry is a strong indication that force is the advance of a large body, as such troops are not used for marauding purposes. After crossing at Shoppardstown, it appears the enemy passed through Sharpsburg and Funkstown. So sudden was their descent upon Hagerstown, that the telegraph operator was compelled to leave on a hand car, closely pursued by a cavalry force. He was in range of their revolvers for a considerable time, and only escaped by hard work at the wheels. We are still in communication with the State lines by a telegraph station on Franklin Road, seven miles North of Hagerstown. The operator there states that the rebels in Hagerstown have thrown out pickets, but as yet they have made no further advance.

PHILADELPHIA, August 8.—The Bulletin has the following dated Harrisburg, August 8:—Colonel Boyd, of the 21st Pennsylvania cavalry, took possession of Hagerstown yesterday. The last we hear from our forces is rebel dom.

Later news received this a. m. states that the rebels have retreated homeward, and have again eluded the preparations for their capture It is certain that, under the new commander, the rebel invasions into our State will cease. A dispatch at headquarters from the military authorities at Hagerstown says "all is quiet on the Potomac."

WAR DEPARTMENT, Aug. 9.

To Maj. Gen. Dix. The following has been received. It is dated Harper's Ferry, Aug. 8—4:40 p. m.:

Maj. Gen H. W. Halleck, Chief of Staff: Gen. Kelly reports that a scout has just arrived at New Creek, and reports that Gen. Averill overtook the enemy near Moorfield yesterday and attacked him, capturing all his artillery and 500 prisoners. Nothing official has been received from General Averill, however. [Signed.]

P. H. SHERIDAN, Maj. Gen. Com.
E. M STANTON, Sec'y of War.

The Late Call for Volunteers.

The Solicitor of the War Department, has delivered an opinion regarding the recent call for 500,000 volunteers and the questions relating thereto as respects the settlement of quotas. He says the chief object of these laws is to bring able-bodied men into the military service, and to distribute as equally as practicable the burden of supplying them. The Solicitor says that each man furnished under the present call, whether his period of enlistment be longer or shorter, should count only one in the quota now required, and each district should furnish the full number of men which should be determined on and called for as its quota; but if one district shall fill its quota with one year men, and if another district shall fill its quota with three years' men, the amount of service of these districts will not be equal. The Solicitor agrees to give credit under a new call to the district furnishing three years' volunteers, three times the amount of service credited to the districts furnishing only one year volunteers. That district which, in the present draft, furnishes one year men, cuts up its burden into three parts, and shoulders only one part, the present year, leaving the rest to be met on the next call; whereas, the district furnishing three years' men now gains at once the same benefit in the quota of the next draft as though it had furnished three times as many men for one year's service.

THE RECALL OF M'CLELLAN.—It is asserted by a Washington dispatch that the dispatch to the Herald to the effect that a strong effort was being made by leading Republicans to secure the restoration of M'Clellan to a command, and that the President was disposed to yield, on certain conditions, is without the slightest foundation.

The Situation Before Petersburg.

A letter from the Army of the Potomac, dated Friday evening, says: There is no change in the position of the two armies since the battle.—There has been the usual picket firing. Heavy firing was heard in the direction of the 10th corps this afternoon. A report was circulated that the enemy had attempted to blow up a fort in the vicinity, but were unsuccessful. A rebel battery on the north side of the James river had become very annoying for a day or two.—Quite an engagement took place this morning between it and our gunboats, and it was finally forced to leave.—The weather continues very warm, and considerable sickness prevails among the soldiers, who suffer from diarrhœa. St. George Court House was wantonly set fire to and destroyed this morning by some soldiers.

Later.—A letter from the Army of the Potomac, dated Saturday morning, says the rebels exploded a mine yesterday evening before dark, in front of the 5th corps, but as they had not dug to within forty yards of our works, but little damage was done. They also attempted to make a charge, cheering loudly, but they must have been chagrined at finding themselves so far from our lines. Considerable firing was kept up for an hour. The enemy's loss was heavy and ours very light. All quiet this morning.

The Herald's Washington special says: The rebels exploded a mine under one of our works on Friday afternoon. No particulars are known, except that but little damage was done. It is generally believed that Sheridan is assigned to duty on the Upper Potomac. The Herald's Fifth corps correspondent, of the 4th, says: Both armies are active in their works, each essentially strengthening them.

According to the Petersburg papers the rebels brought into action only two brigades in repulsing our force before Petersburg. One brigade repulsed a charge by our troops, and the other followed up the repulse with a charge and drove what of our men that could get away back over the breastworks, and made prisoners of all left behind, about 1,000, besides the killed and wounded.

Washington City Items.

The New York Post's Washington special says that the rebel report of the capture of Stoneman is discredited in military circles. No news from Sherman to day. The report in reference to Farragut's operations at Mobile is believed to be correct, as such a movement was expected at the time stated. A special to the Washington Chronicle states that the rebels in Maryland have raised the black flag, and announce that they have come to burn and destroy. Advices [illegible] quiet there.

A Washington special to the New York Commercial says that the Government has received no information of the attack on Mobile. Admiral Farragut informed the Navy Department on the 26th that he would make the attack as soon as the land forces were ready, which would be on the 29th or 30th ult. Two of his ironclads could pass Dog River Bar up to the city.

The New York Post's Washington special says: Orders have been issued from the Provost Marshal's office to correct excessive enrollments and all persons legally exempted from the draft are called on to come forward and have their names taken off the lists. Official dispatches announce the safety of General McCook and at least one thousand of his men.

Information has reached here, says a Washington dispatch of the 6th, that the Union officers, placed by the rebels under fire at Charleston, have all been exchanged. They were saluted by our fleet, and Admiral Dahlgren entertained them on board his ship. They have been sent North.—A dispatch was received at the Navy Department to-day from Admiral Farragut, dated the 26th of July, in which he says he was all ready on an attack on Mobile.

New Orleans dates to the 30th of July have been received, and furnish the intelligence that Admiral Farragut had repulsed the rebels off Mobile, and was bombarding the upper defences. The Admiral passed Forts Morgan and Gaines, which were supposed to command the entrance to Mobile Bay, and he has now eight iron clad in his fleet. The bombardment had continued three days, and it was expected that the city would surrender before the close of last week.—Gen Granger will command the land forces, which will occupy Mobile and garrison the the forts, if perfect success crowns the movements of Admiral Farragut, as everybody expects.

THE RELIEF OF GEN. HOOKER.—General Hooker was relieved at his own request from the command of the 10th Army Corps, because General Howard was promoted over him to the command of the Department of Tennessee, made vacant by M'Pherson's death. General Slocum is put in command of the 10th Corps.

It is understood that Gen Hooker will be assigned to a new department, to be composed of upper Maryland and portions of Pennsylvania and Virginia. The force he will have will, it is believed, be large, to operate in the valley of the Shenandoah against the rebels and possibly invest Richmond from that direction. This will be carrying out General Grant's original intention.

There are those, however, who maintain that Gen. Hooker will supersede Meade as commander of the Army of the Potomac.

Proclamation of the Governor.

30,000 Volunteer Militia Called Out.

HARRISBURG, August 5, 1864.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of the said Commonwealth: A PROCLAMATION: The advance of the rebel army has again crossed the Potomac, and this morning occupied Hagerstown. I call for thirty thousand Volunteer Militia, to be mustered into the service of the State, to serve during the emergency for the defence of the State. The men east of Johnstown will rendezvous at Harrisburg, and those west of that place at Pittsburg. I cannot too earnestly urge upon the people of the State the necessity for the immediate presence of this force. The general orders which accompany this proclamation set forth the arrangements for transportation, &c., and the mode of organization.

By the Governor: A. G. CURTIN.
ELI SLIFER, Sec'y of the Com.

GENERAL-ORDER No. 53.—Headquarters Pennsylvania Militia, August 5. 1864.—In accordance with my proclamation this day made, it is ordered:

First—That all the able-bodied men of Pennsylvania do immediately assemble in their respective boroughs, wards and townships, and organize companies for the defense of the State.

Second—Companies, as rapidly as organized, will, on application to the different railroad companies, be furnished with transportation by the United States to the proper rendezvous. Those organized west of Johnstown to Camp Reynolds, Pittsburg; east of Johnstown to Camp Curtin, at Harrisburg; where they will be subsisted by the United States Government, and sworn into the service of the State for State defence during the period of the existing emergency, and will be organized into regiments. By order of A. G. Curtin, Governor and Commander in-Chief.

A. L. RUSSELL,
Adjutant General of Penn'a.

Desperate Face to Face Fight.

The character of the fight before Atlanta may be judged by the following statement of the army correspondent of the New York Times. Early on the morning of the 23d ult., a large mass of the enemy came down on the three corps lately commanded by Gen M'Pherson, and after a struggle of three hours, were driven back into their works. Still a heavy force got into the Federal rear, and in a sanguinary fight captured four 20-pound Parrotts, and eight field pieces. The account says:

While they were attempting to remove the captured artillery from the field, a severe hand to hand conflict took place, and they were obliged to relinquish their hold upon the 20-pounders, which again came into our possession unspiked. They succeeded, however, in getting off with the field pieces.

As soon as our forces recovered the Parrotts they turned them upon the fleeing rebels, and hurled unheard-of destruction into the rebel ranks. At this juncture the desperation of the enemy was intense. Their whole line came square up to the breastworks, planted their colors along side of our own, and for half an hour the two armies fought each other face to face, each side of the same line of intrenchments, with the battle colors of the respective parties flying from the same works. This performance, perhaps, has no parallel. During the affair great odds were in our favor, to say nothing of the disparity of numbers—our forces being two to the enemy's one.

A SWEET AND PERFUMED BREATH

VERSUS

A BAD BREATH.

What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when, by using the

BALM OF A 1000 FLOWERS,

it could be cured? How many lovers it has separated! Is How many friends forever parted! The SUBJECT is on DELICATE, your nearest friend will not mention it; and ye, are yourself ignorant of the fact. To effect a radical cure use the Balm as a tooth-wash night and morning.

THE BALM OF

is a sweet and delightful preparation. It is composed of Palm-oil and Honey; hence the name. The most of ancient times used honey to beautify their complexion; but the combination with palm-oil and other valuable ingredients make it still more valuable. For bathing suffering infants, a few drops poured into a basin of water will dispel all fever, tetter, &c. A few drops poured on your shaving-brush makes a beautiful soft lather, leaving the face pure and white.

When used for washing night and morning, eradicates all Tan, Pimples, and Freckles, rendering the skin soft and white, and free from blemish.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 3d, 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any state or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are received in United States notes or National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest as payable on the first days of March and September in each year.

Subscribers will receive either Registered or Coupon Bonds, as they may prefer. Registered Bonds are recorded on the books of the U. S. Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1st, by paying the accured interest in coin—(or in United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or received them drawing interes form the date of subscription and deposit.—As these Bonds are in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

EXEMPT FROM MUNICIPAL OR STATE TAXATION, their value is increased form one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax leivies in various parts of the country.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payments while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sum from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

It may be useful to state in this connection that the total Funded Debt of the United States on which interest is payable in gold, on the 2d day of March, 1864, was $768,965,-000. The interest on this debt for the coming fiscal yeas will be $45,937,126, while the customs revenue in gold for the current fiscal year, ending June 30th 1864, has been so far at the rate of over 100,000,000 per annum.

It will be seen that even the present gold revenues of the Government are largely in excess of the wants of the Treasury for the payment of gold interest, while the recent increase of the tariff will doubtless raise the annual receipts from customs on the same amount of importations, to $150,000,000 per annum.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued from the United State Treasury untill March 26, but in the first three weeks of April the subscription averaged more than TEN NILLIONS A WEEK.

Subscriptions will be received by the

First National Bank of Pittsburgh,
Third National Bank of Pittsburgh,
AND BY ALL NATIONAL BANKS

which are depositaries of Public money, and all

RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country, (acting as agent of the National Depositary Banks,) will furnish further information on application and

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT,

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER.

And Other Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the dependent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will, when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and worth excellence. Hence the necessity of all those who are laboring under the predisposing exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building, with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of and town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotton up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate the condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined. Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating, as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process. The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. A Good Canvasser wanted in every town. Liberal inducements offered, and exclusive sale guaranteed.

This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. FRIENDS AND RELATIVES
OF THE
BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New-York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

NOW.

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS

The best evidences that they are is, that the firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says, "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Pooder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having ARTIFICIAL TEETH, which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescried for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women! here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address,
WM. B. HURD & CO.,
